

Gustave Cirhigiri is now completing his graduate studies within the Department of Plant Sciences in the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science at UC Davis. Gustave holds a Bachelor of Science in Agronomy-Crop Science from the Catholic University of Bukavu. He began his career as Assistant Researcher at the International Institute for Tropical Agriculture. Later, Mr. Cirhigiri was appointed as the Fisheries Advisor to the Minister of Agriculture in the Democratic Republic of the Congo. More recently he has been the Project Coordinator at the Korea International Cooperation Agency (KOICA) where he monitored two Integrated Rural Development Projects around the town of Kinshasa. He had been awarded the Netherlands Fellowship Program and also received the Hubert Humphrey Fellowship which has provided him a year of professional enrichment in the United States for experienced professionals from designated countries undergoing development or political transition.